

IBICS

Irish Biological Inorganic Chemistry Society

The Irish Biological Inorganic Chemistry Society (IBICS) will host its 6th Symposium (IBICS-6) in Dublin City University on Thursday, 8th December, 2022

The symposium will include 2 plenary lectures from international experts:

Professor Hubertus Haas

*Professor of Microbiology
University of Innsbruck, Austria*

Fungal siderophore uptake and its translational potential

Professor Jens Mueller

*Professor of Inorganic Chemistry
University of Munster, Germany*

Metal-Modified Nucleic Acids: From Silver(I)-Mediated Base Pairs to Phosphorescent Platinum(II)-Bearing DNA

The symposium will also include the presentation of the IBICS Postgraduate Award 2022

DETAILS

Dublin City University (<https://www.dcu.ie/how-to-get-here>)

IBICS AGM: To immediately follow the symposium

Registration via link <https://forms.office.com/r/VTK263Ki8A>)

Registration Fee: €30 or Free if you are a registered IBICS member

IBICS postgraduate award nominations (<https://ibics.ie/ibics-awards/>)

Registration, Abstract and PG award nomination deadline: Friday 18th Nov 2022
(Abstracts and PG award nominations to be emailed to: secretary@ibics.ie)

Further details on our website: <https://ibics.ie/> and via Twitter @IbicsIreland
The Society's mission is to develop, foster and promote a strong national network of scientists collaborating in research areas such as biology, chemistry, physics and medicine with an interest in bioinorganic chemistry.

